Title: Improving Clinical Outcomes with Straight Talk Pharmacology

James Rutkowski DMD, PhD

Topics to be covered include effective use of analgesics, antibiotics and steroids to improve treatment outcomes; how the top 25 prescribed drugs used in medicine impact dental treatment. Clinically significant drug interactions related to the use of epinephrine by the dentist will be reviewed. Treatment of women's health issues and the use of dietary nutrition and supplements will also be discussed.

Upon completion of the course the participants will be able to:

- ▶ Improve treatment outcomes with proper use of drugs
- ▶ Recognize significant drug interactions
- ▶ Determine value of dietary nutrition and supplements

This high energy, informative and interactive presentation will keep the audience aware with the enjoyment of learning new pharmacological aspects of our profession.

About your facilitator

James Rutkowski, DMD, PhD

James Rutkowski is a General Dentist in Clarion, PA. He has a practice concentrating on full mouth reconstruction and implant dentistry. His pharmacological know-how will help the participants treat patients with decreased post-operative complications, thus making daily practice for the dentist and staff more enjoyable.

OAGD in cooperation with Oregon Health and Sciences University Dental School has sponsored a student competition with case presentations for the last eight years. This program and mentoring efforts by OAGD and faculty members is designed to transition new dentists to the profession. We appreciate the support of our sponsors: O'Brien Dental Lab; IPAdental Financial; and Creamer and Associates and the ADI. We also are extremely grateful to Dr. Rutkowski's fine example for donating his honorarium to the Susan G. Koman For the Cure Breast Cancer Research.
